Syrian Claims Nation Tries Stay Neutral

Damascus Official
Says Eisenhower
Gets Wrong Advice

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—A Syrian Foreign Ministry official said today Syria is not swerving from its policy of positive neutrality and nonalignment with any bloc.

Salah Tarazi, secretary general of the Foreign Ministry, refuted President Eisenhower's assertion at his news conference Wednesday that Syria is taking a pro-Soviet turn.

At a special news conference today, Tarazi also denied Eisenhower's charge that there is censorship in Syria. Press censorship was halted in Damascus last April, he said, and in the rest of Syria a month ago.

He said statements on Syria made by President Eisenhower Wednesday were not true.

Tarazi also charged that Eisenhower's call for all the free world to watch the Syrian situation was interference in Syria's internal affairs.

AMERICAN concern over Syria, he said, stemmed primarily from charges here of an American plot to overthrow the Syrian regime rather than from the events which followed.

The President said the charges were a smokescreen behind which persons with leftist leanings were trying to strengthen their power in Syria.

Earlier, a Syrian spokesman said the President appeared to be "misinformed" about Syria.

The spokesman met with reporters Wednesday to discuss what he called Eisenhower's "anti-Syrian news conference."

He asserted that Eisenhower's charge that there is press censorship in Syria "proves that his officials in Damascus are not keeping him informed or are misinforming him."

The spokesman said censorship in Syria was lifted a month ago and that Western correspondents are moving in and out of Syria freely and filing uncensored copy.

The government-sponsored Damascus radio, meanwhile, described Eisenhower's comment on the Syrian situation as "part of an imperialistic campaign of dis-

Seminole OK New Tribal Constitution

DANIA, Fla. (AP)—Florida's reservation Seminoles have established a tribal constitution which will bring a new formality to their system of government.

Complete with preamble and couched in legal terminology, the constitution was approved 223 to 5. Most of the ballots were cast by reservation dwellers. Eligible to vote were 448 Indians.

The so-called Tamiami Trail Indians, the largest group of off-reservation Seminoles, boycotted the election. They recently won state approval for a constitution of their own.

Only 22 ballots (17 of them absentee votes which are yet to be counted) were cast by Indians living off the reservation. All five of those which were tabulated favored the constitution.

A separate vote with only reservation Indians eligible to cast ballots was held on the question of whether to set up a business corporation to represent the tribesmen. The plan was approved 218 to 5. The corporation will be known as the Seminole Tribe of Florida, Inc.

The new constitution provides for election of an eight-member tribal council within 30 days. Council elections will be held every two years. Everyone who has reached 18 will be eligible to vote in future balloting.

Wednesday's election was limited to those 21 and over.

WIRETAP DISPUTES HOFFA — Robert Kennedy (left), chief counsel for the Senate rackets committee huddles with James Hoffa (right), Teamsters vice president, on his list of stocks. George Fitzgerald, Hoffa's attorney, listens in. Hoffa later was challenged with wiretap evidence when he denied that he tried to shove mobster Johnny Dio into the union over the veto of president Dave Beck.

Wiretap Reveals New Link Between Hoffa, Gangster

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rackets Committee today heard a 1953 wire tapped telephone conversation in which Teamsters Union boss James R. Hoffa assured gangster Johnny Dio of a clear field in organizing New York taxi cab drivers.

At about the same time in New York, Dio pleaded innocent in a federal court to evading $20,169 in income taxes.

Theodore Ray, described as his bodyguard, also pleaded innocent to evading taxes of $407.

Dio, who has served a prison term for extortion, previously appeared before the committee but pleaded the Fifth Amendment in reply to virtually all questions.

Hoffa sat glumly listening to the recording. He had just denied that he had sought through Dio to get a foothold in New York.

The recording, made under court order by New York police, was of a Hoffa-Dio talk on March 10, 1953. In it, Hoffa said he'd talked "to that Hickey guy."

THOMAS HICKEY, a Teamsters vice president, was trying to organize cab drivers in a rival drive to Dio's.

The conversation went this way: Hoffa: I talked to Hickey.

Dio: Yeah?

Hoffa: He promised me that he would straighten that situation out; there would be no more interference at where you're having (cab driver) elections or anything else if you'll just let him know where you're working and he'll keep the hell out of there.

Dio: Ahuh; all right.

Hoffa: — And I told him you would call him and tell him.

Dio: Ahuh. Well, maybe it might be a good idea for Monday—for me to be there any more. (They had talked about meeting in Chicago).

Hoffa: Yeah.

Dio: Monday or Tuesday, huh?

Hoffa: I don't think it would hurt.

Just before the recording was played, Hoffa had denied having any recollection of seeking, as suggested by Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy, to "knock Hickey" out of organizing cab drivers counter to Dio's drive.

"I'm astounded at your qualifications to every answer," Kennedy told Hoffa. "Maybe some of these recordings will help refresh your memory."

September Draft
Call Lowest in '57

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio Selective Service headquarters today announced a September induction call of 496 men, the lowest of the year.

The youngest registrant who may be inducted on the new call must be at least 22 years old on or before Sept. 1, unless he is a volunteer or was delinquent in reporting for a previous call.

The induction call by counties included:

Clinton 2, Fayette 3, Pickaway 1, Ross 3, Hocking 3, Athens 3, Vinton 1, Fairfield 4.

Van Wert 1, Putnam 3, Mercer 2.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) said the committee action is "without prejudice" and Stewart's name was resubmitted next year.

The fight against the promotion of Stewart was led by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) who contends the actor and some others on President Eisenhower's list did not properly fulfill reserve training requirements.

Resolution Seeks To Save Flattop

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House resolution designed to save the famed aircraft carrier Enterprise from the scrap heap is headed for President Eisenhower's desk.

The measure authorizes the Navy to turn the historic World War II vessel over to an association headed by Fleet Adm. William F. (Bull) Halsey (ret). The association plans to maintain the Enterprise here as a permanent national shrine.

The Enterprise now is in the Brooklyn Navy Yard. It originally was scheduled to be scrapped.

Sidney Driver First To Lose On 'Point' Law

New State System
Invoked; Legality
Still In Question

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio today officially recorded the first revocation of a driver's license under the new point system law.

The driver's license of Raul Sowers of near Sidney was revoked for one year in Shelby County common pleas court, said Gordon Jeffery, director of the Department of Highway Safety.

The revocation takes effect July 23, 1959, two years from the date that Sowers' license was suspended by a Municipal Court judge in Sidney.

The suspension was for one year, followed by another one-year suspension a few days later.

Jeffery said Sowers appeared without counsel and without witnesses in common pleas court Aug. 19 to accept the verdict of Judge Huber A. Beery that the defendant is "an habitual traffic law violator" as defined in the point system law.

THE LAW, which went into effect last June 22, provides that a motorist accumulating 12 points for traffic violations within a two-year period may have his license revoked for one year. Certain traffic violations carry a specified number of points.

At Sowers' hearing, Judge Beery was informed that on last July 23 the defendant had already received a license suspension of two years in Sidney Municipal Court. The judge therefore ordered that Sowers' license revocation shall not begin until both suspensions end.

Sowers thus faces three years without a driver's license.

Court records show that last Nov. 3 Sowers' car collided with a police cruiser in Sidney, re-

U. S. Aides See No Accord Near at Disarmament Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials expect the London disarmament talks to recess in about two weeks without agreement for ending the East-West arms race.

President Eisenhower's new concession to Russia on suspending nuclear tests is regarded here as improving the Western positions for negotiating and propaganda. But it does not appear to have broken the basic deadlock.

A White House statement Wednesday announced Western readiness to accept conditionally a two-year—instead of a 10-month—suspension of tests. This statement implied that the Soviet Union must now make concessions.

There have been no indications the Soviet Union will make any important gesture soon.

On the contrary, Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin told American, British, French and Canadian representatives Wednesday that if they intend seriously to end nuclear tests they must renounce the link between that issue and the Western demand for an agreement to stop production of atomic explosions for military purposes.

Zorin, according to a report to the State Department, welcomed the offer for a two-year test suspension when it was formally presented by U. S. negotiator Harold Stassen with Eisenhower's personal authorization.

But news dispatches from London quoted Zorin as saying the new Western proposal contains too many unacceptable conditions. Zorin did, however, promise to give the proposal careful study.

Russia had proposed in mid-June that tests be suspended for two or three years and had then repeatedly attacked the Western insistence on the 10-month period.

An Eisenhower statement described the new Western offer as a significant change in U. S. Disarmament policy.

The statement emphasized that any suspension of nuclear weapons tests would be agreed to by the United States and its allies only under "certain conditions and safeguards."

The most important of these conditions, the statement made clear, is that the suspension should be part of an agreement for "a permanent cessation of production of fissionable materials for weapons purposes and installation of inspection systems to insure performance."

U. S. officials, who went beyond the President's statement in explaining the Allied position, said the West is interested in having atomic tests only as part of a package disarmament deal. Such a package, they said, should include not only the production cut-off and inspection provisions, but also firm agreements on zones for aerial and ground inspection, on reductions in military forces, cut-backs in conventional armaments and control of missiles.

Pickaway Truck Drivers Hurt

Cornfield Obscures Vision at Corner

Both drivers were slightly injured when two trucks collided at the Ashville-Fairfield and East Ringgold-Northern Roads yesterday at 4:40 p. m.

William Teets, 26, 121 W. Ohio St., and Don Collins, Route 1, Ashville, both received treatment for back injuries. Teets was treated at Berger Hospital and Collins by an Ashville physician. According to Deputy Sheriff Robert Hoover, Teets' truck was traveling south on the East Ringgold-Northern Road and Collins was heading east on Ashville-Fairfield Road. Teets told Deputy Hoover that he stopped at the intersection, then pulled into the cornfield at the intersection, then pulled into the cornfield at the intersection, then pulled into the cornfield at the intersection.

Hoover said the trucks skidded into a ditch after colliding in the middle of the intersection. Both vehicles were heavily damaged.

Typhoon Agnes Heads North Toward Siberia

SEOUL (AP)—Typhoon Agnes, with much of its force spent, moved on toward Siberia today after battering the southern tip of Korea. The storm hit Korea Wednesday and left at least 60 persons dead, 11 missing, 2,000 homeless and damages of $600,000.

A U. S. military spokesman said there were no American casualties. The spokesman estimated damage to American harbor and other facilities at more than $500,000.

Big Unions Face Regulation

After showing signs of disciplining the Teamsters for racketeering and other excesses, the AFL-CIO leadership is reported to be weakening. Some of the smaller unions fear discipline would set a precedent that might react on them in the future. They oppose a system of control by which the big parent bodies can ride over them roughshod.

In addition to the Beck-Hoffa fiasco of the Teamsters, President Hutchinson of the Carpenters was up for discipline because of alleged participation in Indiana land deals. This has stirred up the crafts unions in the building trades who want no part of top labor leadership meddling in their affairs.

Aside from a few disciplinary actions involving jurisdictional disputes between unions, it appears that President George Meany of the AFL-CIO has no plans to act. This supports the contention made long ago by many labor-management experts that labor would be completely unable to clean its own house, much as the top leaders might desire it. They haven't the power to enforce their decisions on the unions down in the ranks.

Members of Congress are reported to be thinking more purposefully of putting the labor organizations under the federal laws that apply to every activity but that of the unions. The most effective action Congress could take would be to blanket big labor with the anti-trust laws.

In some areas big unions have more monopolistic power than business ever had. There certainly is no reason why they should not be answerable to the laws of the land.

Automation Won't Cure All

Workers, almost since the machine age began, with roseate visions of a soft life have dreamed of the push-button factory that did everything automatically—or worried about losing their jobs.

But at least one authority—Harlow Curtice, president of General Motors—is skeptical of push-button predictions, and points to experience with automation as proof.

Automation is just another way of doing things, instead of the wave of the future, he contends. To succeed in competitive industry it must prove itself a better and cheaper way.

The one big advantage of mechanized production is that it can eliminate high-cost repetitive human labor on standardized products turned out by the millions. The disadvantage is that it must turn out millions to justify a high capital investment.

Thus, automation is inflexible. Curtice does not believe an automated factory could survive in any field where a competitor was free to introduce improvements in the product. That makes sense and should answer fears of workingmen that they are about to become obsolete.

So long as industrial processes change, some technological unemployment must be one of the costs. But there seems no more reason now than 50 years ago to imagine that the machine is replacing man and that it will be possible to continue happily paring down the work week finally to live without working.

Massey--He's Lincoln Again

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—A strange thing has happened to Raymond Massey.

Massey, a former tractor salesman who served as a soldier in two world wars, also has achieved recognition as one of the world's leading actors.

He has appeared in 60 motion pictures and 150 plays. All his life he has clung to one thesis about his profession—that an actor should never identify himself personally or emotionally with a role he plays, for if he does his performance will be poorer.

So what happens? When awe-struck strangers meet Massey for the first time, they half expect his first words of greeting will be, "Four score and seven years ago—"

For to millions Massey is the man who took Abraham Lincoln off the penny and made him a living image again. To them he is Lincoln.

"When people ask me if I don't get tired of portraying Lincoln, I get a definite homicidal urge," remarked Massey, pointing out that it is nearly 18 years since he opened on Broadway in Robert Sherwood's "Abe Lincoln in Illinois."

"Since then I have played him only a few times in radio and television."

But next month he will portray the Great Emancipator again during a 72-city road tour of Norman Corwin's "The Rivalry," the story of the famed Lincoln-Douglas debates.

Massey is happy to return to his most famous role, but for his own reasons.

"Actually, I'd kill any one with my bare hands who tried to get the part away from me," he said, cheerfully knotting his big fists.

"But not because of a missionary urge, or because it suits my politics—although I am so Republican it makes my skin crack. It's simply because the role itself is so overwhelming.

I'd be glad to play the Devil—if he gets enough good lines."

The public may confuse Massey with Mr. 'L'—as the actor refers to him—but Massey himself, when offstage, enjoys playing nobody other than Raymond Massey, an actor proud of his craft.

Massey took a few warm whacks at what he considers wrong with the U. S. entertainment world.

"American acting, as exemplified by Marlon Brando, is the best in the world," he said, "but I think that some of his imitators represent the American theater at its worst."

"I don't believe in the modern theory of self-identification in the theater, and never have. I don't think you go to the theater to see yourself on the stage—you go to be entertained—and I don't think the actor can identify himself in the role he plays."

"If he does, he can't be an actor. He's a dead duck. An actor portrays emotions in a role—he doesn't feel them."

'Moonlighting' Shows Initiative

By George Sokolsky

"Moonlighting" means that a fellow, who by union rules or the law or whatever other compulsion works only 40 hours a week or less, gets himself a second job and makes a little more money.

Personally, I think that is a wonderful idea. Surely, a grown man can put in more than 40 hours a week to benefit himself and his family and most successful men do.

A fellow is alive 168 hours every week and what most of them do with the surplus 128 hours is hard to understand. Maybe they just sit around and gab with the missus until she is ready to drop dead from so much talk. Maybe that is one reason why the divorce rate is so enormous in this country.

The men who succeed in life do not limit themselves to 40 hours a week. No lawyer could get to the first rung of the ladder on 40 hours a week. He could not limit his reading of cases to that. No doctor can make a career on 40 hours a week; most of those whom I know work pretty much around the clock and are lucky if they can grab a six or seven-hour sleep in a night. Certainly at the start of a medical career, work is constant and later on doctors have the deadly problem of keeping up with the new developments, a reading task that is almost superhuman. Those who make good, do it.

Management certainly cannot limit itself to a 40-hour week. The really top men in management stick to the job constantly; otherwise the company goes to pot and in due course is taken over and amalgamated because the time-clock cannot be used by management. The fellow who gets himself a white collar job and then says, "Let George do it," sooner or later finds that George does it and moves up.

Of course, there are exceptions like the fellow who marries the boss' daughter and becomes an ornament, but I have known many a young fellow who married the boss' daughter, took hold of the situation and did as good a job as the old man, if not better. Maybe the father planned it that way.

"Moonlighting" is OK with me because it shows initiative, conscientiousness, ardor and family responsibility. I have heard the argument that two jobs sap a man's strength. That depends upon how much strength he has.

Short working hours may be socially a sound idea but is it psychologically? There is a difference between leisure and idleness, just as there is a difference between nobility and sanctimoniousness. For example, the other day, I read of a lot of senators who got up on the floor of the Senate to make speeches praising Joe McCarthy to the skies and pretending that they were sorry that he is dead.

Many of them were the bully-boys who broke his heart and sent him to an early grave. I did not read a single speech asking God's forgiveness for the bearing of false witness to achieve political advantage. That is an example of the difference between morality and hypocrisy.

So the problem of the 40-hour week, which may soon be a 30-hour week, needs to be analyzed from the standpoint of what idleness does to the individual. If it is true that there are several million "moonlighters" in the United States, it goes to show that there are several million Americans who cannot be beaten down by the doctrine that a fellow must do nothing for himself, but must sail along with the least effort, depending upon benevolent politicians to pass laws giving him a minimum subsistence from the cradle to the grave.

That argument could be used in the 1930's when Americans didn't know any better. Today, as we are approaching the 1960's, even the kids know that a dollar in one's pocket is surer than a promise from the bureaucracy and that when there is all you get.

The ambitious young man who "moonlights" incidentally must make it tough for the fellow who takes his wife that it is against the law to work at a machine in the morning and sell salami as a relief man. The other fellow's girl has the cash to buy what she thinks she needs.

"They still have the same furniture they had when they started housekeeping!"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

DENTISTRY, of course, has made vast strides in the past 20 years. False teeth fit so well and look so natural that they enhance the glitter of Hollywood's glamorous stars. But in olden times dentures were so painful and cumbersome that George Washington refused to wear his set while posing for his celebrated portraits by Gilbert Stuart. (A hard-riding silversmith who did dentistry as a sideline in those days was Paul Revere.)

A set of choppers made for General Washington still is on display in the museum of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. It is said to have inspired one dentist to drop his implements, seize a set of golf bags, and call over his shoulder as he headed for the exit, "That reminds me! I've got 18 cavities of my own to fill this afternoon!"

Tom Dillon, no opera lover he, writes, "Millions of dollars are spent on opera which could be used to abolish it."

Don't Give Blood Too Often

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

It's very commendable to want to donate some of your blood to help persons who need it.

But you can do too much of a good thing, you know. Donating blood too often might very well leave you in need of some yourself.

Some persons regularly donate blood every four to six weeks. While this is fine from the blood bank's standpoint, it may be far too often from the personal health standpoint.

Generally, doctors suggest an interval of 10 to 12 weeks, between donations, for men and about four months for women. In other words, a maximum number of four to five donations a year for men and three bleedings annually for women.

Meanwhile, it's important for those of you who do want to donate blood at a fairly regular rate to get enough iron. Ask the doctors at your hospital blood bank, or your own personal physician, how to go about it.

An easy way is to take a coated pill containing a combination of ferrous iron and vitamin C. The vitamin C is valuable because it boosts iron absorption.

Since we're in the middle of the summer allergy season, many of you allergy victims might be wondering whether it's all right for you to donate blood. Except for certain limitations, the answer is yes.

A few simple precautions generally can prevent the blood from an allergy victim from causing allergic symptoms among sensitive recipients.

For one thing, don't give blood while suffering allergic symptoms. Don't eat foods likely to cause an allergic reaction before donating blood. Don't take any medications for two days prior to giving blood.

Wait at least two weeks before donating any blood if you have just received an allergen injection. Or wait two weeks after taking drugs known to produce undesirable effects.

If you are in any doubt about the advisability of donating blood,

Paris dress designer Pierre Cardin says "those super-revealing necklines are more embarrassing than interesting to men."

Well, some men have interests and others have embarrassments.

This fall the "body beautiful" will not be shown, says Cardin. Styles along that line may prove unpopular with a male population trained by advertisers to accept no substitutes.

"Fall and winter dresses won't be long," says Cardin. Maybe the dresses won't be long, but the way he's making them, the fall and winter will be.

"This autumn you'll guess curves when the woman is moving," says Cardin. Especially if she's moving behind the wheel of an automobile.

This Cardin is all mixed up. In the same breath he says there won't be any shapes and then advises women to wear something that makes them stand out in the crowd.

Rome's Fontana Sisters are coming out with the slanted neckline. For the lean type, no doubt.

The Fontana Sisters say the slanted neckline doesn't expose much, it's just that it's a brand new area. It may be new to them, but you can lay bets it'll be sun-tanned.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The two party leaders in the House, both in their 70s, have acted more like a couple of old-timers having a waltz by themselves than legislators seriously seeking a compromise on the civil rights bill.

For days Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, 75 and boss of the House Democrats, and Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, 73 and captain of the House Republicans, have been saying of each other to newsmen but not to each other: "He can come to me if he wants to work out a compromise."

Neither went to the other. This is the first time in the memory of newsmen covering Congress that Rayburn, with 44 years in the House, and Martin, with 33 years there, have not been speaking to each other on a piece of major legislation.

Each has sat tight, waiting for the other to make a move to break through the wall that has grown up between the two parties in the House on the civil rights bill.

Democrats and Republicans are anxious for as much credit as possible—both have their eye on the Northern Negro vote—if a civil rights bill is passed this year.

And if it isn't passed, the party which could plausibly blame the other would have a handy issue in the 1958 congressional elections.

The bill—until Wednesday—had been in a kind of coma since the Senate passed it 15 days ago and sent it back to the House for agreement or compromise. The House previously had passed a different version of the civil rights bill.

House Democrats had been willing to make a compromise. But Republicans said the Democrats didn't go far enough. They didn't even tell this to each other. They told it to newsmen.

Under present procedure in federal courts a man can be tried for contempt and jailed by a judge, without a jury trial. The House bill would let it stay that way, so there would be no jury trial for criminal contempt even in voting rights cases.

But the Senate said: For criminal contempt there must be a jury trial not only in voting rights cases but for any kind of criminal contempt in any kind of case coming before a federal judge.

Republicans, from President Eisenhower on down, objected to the Senate bill. They argued the bill was intended to protect voting rights but that a jury trial in contempt cases weakened a judge's power to enforce his orders.

But worse than that, they said, applying a jury trial to every kind of criminal contempt would weaken the whole federal court system.

House Democrats suggested the House and Senate could work out a compromise by limiting jury trials on criminal contempt charges to voting rights cases.

At first the Republicans wanted none of that. None was firmer than Martin. They wanted no jury trial in any kind of criminal contempt case.

Then they sounded just a tiny bit less firm. Wednesday Martin—to newsmen but not directly to Rayburn—proposed a Republican compromise. This was it:

Knock out jury trials for every kind of criminal contempt case except when it involved voting rights but—even then the judge would make the decision on whether to try the case, himself or let a jury do it. If he tried it himself, the maximum penalty on conviction would be less than if the defendant stood trial before a jury.

Democrats suddenly clammed up. They needed, they said, time to think. It was reported today that Democratic leaders are cool to the new GOP plan.

Meanwhile, the bill itself had been lying still in the House Rules Committee, where—in accordance with House procedure—it had been sent. The Rules Committee controls the flow of legislation to the House floor.

But this committee is made up of eight Democrats and four Republicans. Four of the Democrats, including the chairman, Rep. Howard Smith of Virginia, are Southerners. Smith wants no civil rights bill.

He wants to bottle up the bill in the committee and thus kill it. It can't be pried loose unless enough of the four Northern Democrats and four Republicans team up to force Smith to take action on getting the bill out of committee.

The four Northern Democrats proposed just that. The four Republicans, following Martin's guidance, have stayed mum.

Gl Girard's Japanese Judge Noted as Being Stern Man

Editor's Note: Following is the third in a series of articles giving background and color in advance of the trial in Japan of Illinois GI William Girard.

By FRED SAITO
MAEBASHI, Japan. (AP)—A tall, gaunt man of 50 stalks like a pensive stork through the streets of this quiet rural city nightly, a shopping bag swinging from one arm.
Neighbors and passersby bow low as he passes. He returns their salutes but does not stop to chat.
In the tiny four-room house where he lives alone he prepares his evening meal as a handsome German shepherd dog watches from beneath a chair.
The man is District Judge Yuzo Kawachi, who will preside at the trial of S.A.C. William S. Girard, accused of fatally shooting a Japanese woman on a U.S. military firing range last Jan. 30. The trial opens here Monday.
In 21 years on the bench, Judge Kawachi has become known as a stern man who follows the dictates of his conscience and who does not yield to pressure. He won a measure of fame by refusing to bow to Japanese army pressure while serving as a civilian army judge in Indonesia during World War II.

"Don't think I am a misanthrope or a stoic after seeing how I live here," Kawachi said with a smile during an interview.
"Every weekend I go to my Tokyo house and rejoin my wife and three children," he said. "They have to live in Tokyo because of the children's schooling. This way of life is as painful as to me as to any one — particularly for a judge who must live with dignity, at a low salary."
Kawachi has been district judge in this rural city some 80 miles north of Tokyo since 1947.
"A judge is not a diplomat and it is not good for a judge to stay long in one place where many persons with questionable motives try to befriend him," he sighed.
Kawachi, who reads widely and plays chess for relaxation, enjoys a high reputation in this province. In the past two years, Kawachi has handled three famous manslaughter cases. In 1955 he surprised many people by sentencing to life imprisonment a young Japanese who killed his step parents and six stepbrothers and sisters. The death penalty had been generally expected.

In 1956 Kawachi again surprised the province by sentencing a murder-robber to death. The prosecution had demanded only life imprisonment. Last July 19, 1957 Kawachi sentenced to three years in prison another Japanese charged with "bodily injury resulting in death" of a man — technically the same charge as that faced by Girard.
"Human life is precious," the judge told that man.
Of the Girard case, he said: "I have not found all the facts of the case. . . . What I can say is that I am determined to carry out a fair and fast trial. I have asked prosecutors and defense lawyers not to engage in esoteric arguments not pertinent to the case which serve only to delay the procedure. They agreed not to do that."
After a few minutes of meditation, Kawachi spoke softly, as if to himself:
"Human life is precious. . . . No one is supposed to get away free after killing a man or woman without provocation. Unless there were full extenuating reasons. . . . I have not found out all the facts of the case. I plan to go out to the scene in the firing range Sept. 6 and 7 to carry out an on-the-spot survey. But do you think the U. S. Army orders its men to shoot and kill a woman without challenge?"
Japanese police in this city have quoted Japanese witnesses as saying Girard "enticed and induced" Mrs. Naka Sakai, 46-year-old shell picker, before he shot her to death with an empty cartridge fired from his rifle grenade launcher.
Kawachi, answering his own question, said, "I don't know enough about U. S. Army regulations. I don't know. But in case his commanding officer told Girard to shoot her, does an American serviceman have to obey orders without questioning? I don't know. I must find out."
At the Girard trial, Kawachi will be assisted by two associate judges, Teizo Saikawa, 40, and Takashi Hirata, 30. There is no jury.

2 Voices Signed To Copy Pinza

Pair of Singers Due In 'South Pacific' Film

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Who's singing the Ezio Pinza role in "South Pacific"?
You could answer Rossano Brazzi and Giorgio Tozzi and be right both times. And if you don't mind the observation — both rhyme with hotsy-totsy.
"I have sung a little bit," Brazzi told me before leaving for the "South Pacific" shooting in the Hawaiian Islands. "Mostly it was on the stage in the earlier part of my career."
"The studio has worked out a method like that used by Deborah Kerr in 'The King and I' I'll do most of the songs, but Tozzi's voice will be used for the high and the low notes. It has worked out very well. Although he was born in Chicago, he sounds like me."
Tozzi is the operatic basso who played the Pinza role opposite Mary Martin in the local civic light opera run of "Sopac" this summer.

In 1958, California can add fev more to the thousands who are coming to live on these shores. They'll be Pat Boone and family.
The crooner said the deciding factor would be how his film career pans out.
There doesn't seem to be much doubt about his film career — Twentieth Century-Fox figures him to be a draw long after the fad for Elvis Presley dies out. . . .

Ohio AFL-CIO Panel Appointed

COLUMBUS (AP)—A four-man subcommittee, composed of top officers of the Ohio State Federation of Labor and the Ohio CIO Council, has been named to draft a constitution for the two groups when they merge.
The recommendations will be submitted at the next meeting of the 18 - man merger committee. The latter appointed the subcommittee members: President Michael Lyden and Secretary-Treasurer Phil Hannah of the Ohio Federation of Labor and President Ray Ross and Secretary - Treasurer John Rooney of the Ohio CIO Council.
Merger of AFL and CIO groups on the state level must be completed by Dec. 5, two years from the date that the national organizations merged.

Band Mothers Make Annual Band Festival Plans

'Mystery' Skit To Be a Feature

Circleville Band Mothers made plans for the Band Festival which they sponsor annually, at a meeting held Wednesday in the social rooms of the high school.

The festival will be held Sept. 6 at 8 p. m. at the high school athletic field.

Mrs. William Barthelmas, president, appointed Mrs. Wes Edstrom to be chairman of the ticket committee. Assisting Mrs. Edstrom will be Mrs. George Barnes and Mrs. David Goldschmidt.

Tickets will go on sale the first of the week.

This was the first meeting of the year for the Band Mothers. Mrs. P. C. Routzahn, secretary and Mrs. Roscoe Warren, treasurer, gave reports.

Band Mothers are planning a "Mystery Spectacular" as one of the features at the Band Festival. Another interesting feature will be the "Pigskin Review", an intramural game by Circleville football squad.

Sept. 11 has been set as the date for the next Band Mothers meeting.

Rita Howell's Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Mark W. Howell, 529 Elm Ave. have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Miss Rita Ann Howell to Mr. William Bryan Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Henry, 248 Chase Ave., Worthington.

Miss Howell is a graduate of Circleville High School and is associated with Nationwide Insurance Co. in the investment department.

Mr. Henry is a graduate of Aquinas High School. He attended Xavier University, Cincinnati and Ohio State University. He is associated with the Garden Store, Columbus.

The wedding will be an event of Sept. 28 and will be held in St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

Jaycee Wives Plan Autumn Projects

The Jaycee Wives held a combined social and business meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. William Richards, Route 2, Circleville.

The carry in dinner and hamburger fry was enjoyed by thirteen members.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. William Clifton, president.

The group is continuing its project of providing for a school lunch each semester.

During the next months the members will be busy. First among their projects will be selling racing programs at the Pickaway County Fair.

Also they will be helping the Jaycees with a float for the Pumpkin Show and are planning a novelties booth.

John Hills of WTVN-TV has been invited to the September meeting.

Local Girls Complete Nurses Training

Miss Phyllis Lee Dresbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Dresbach of 412 E. Mound St., Circleville, and Mrs. Betty McClure Gifford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. McClure of 553 Spring Hollow Road, Circleville, are members of the graduating class of 63 students of the Miami Valley Hospital School of Nursing, Dayton, Ohio. The class will receive their diplomas at exercises to be held tonight in the auditorium of the National Cash Register Co. in Dayton.

Both girls graduated from Circleville High School in 1954 where Miss Dresbach was active in the school band and orchestra and Girls Athletic Club. Mrs. Gifford was vice president of the high school senior class and active in the dramatic club, band and orchestra.

Mrs. Helen Goodale Florentine of Medford, New Jersey, consultant in nursing administration, will be guest speaker for the nurses' graduation exercises at 8 p. m.

Diplomas will be presented by the Rev. Harvey C. Hahn, minister of Otterbein EUB church in Dayton and vice president of the hospital's board of Trustees. Mrs. Fern J. Blose, also a member of the board, will preside.

Greetings will be presented from the Medical Staff by Dr. Robert A. Bruce, chief of staff and Miss Marjorie Sanderson, director of nursing at MVH, will give the interpretation of the school medal.

Musical selections will be presented by the nursing school's Nightingale Chorus under the direction of Miss Anne Charch. The Rev. J. E. Flinchbaugh, hospital chaplain, will offer the invocation. Solemn highlight of the exercises comes when the class, as a group, takes the Florence Nightingale Pledge, symbol of the nursing profession.

Following graduation ceremonies a reception will be held for the graduates, their families and friends, in the auditorium of the Miami Valley Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilmore, 3 Court St. are guests of their son and daughter-in-law and family. Judge and Mrs. Horace Gilmore and children, Detroit, Mich.

Blenn D. Bales, 149 1/2 W. Main St. and Tom Brunner, 317 S. Court St. are vacationing in Canada and New York state. They plan to visit Quebec and Montreal.

Miss Anne Leist, 353 E. Union St. has returned from Piquette where she was the guest of her niece, Mrs. Emmitt Brown and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fausnaugh, Elm Ave. and Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Martin, W. Corwin St. vacationed in Curtis, Mich. for ten days recently. They returned home Saturday night.

Localites Attend Cincinnati Dinner

Mrs. L. E. Foreman, 142 Park Place returned home from a trip to Cincinnati with several red anthurium blossoms which she has cured and intends to use for the dried arrangement she is exhibiting in a niche at the Ohio State Fair.

The blossoms were given to Mrs. Foreman by friends attending the Chevrolet dinner for dealers in this district. It was held recently at the Netherland Plaza in Cincinnati. Mrs. Foreman said the table arrangements were outstanding. Anthurium blossoms were used with other exotic floral material.

Others attending the dinner from the community were Mr. and Mrs. Ned Harden, also of Park Place and Mr. and Mrs. George Sweetson of Laurelville.

After the dinner Chevrolet guests danced to Buddy Roger's Orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Foreman went to Indianapolis, Ind. from Cincinnati where they visited with her relatives and friends.

Advisory Council Meets with Davis

The Monroe Twp. Advisory Council No. 10 held its Aug. meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Davis and family.

The president, Mrs. C. D. Hosler, called the meeting to order. Discussion leader, Dale Stubbs, presented the topic "How Can We Have More Enjoyment from Life?"

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hosler, Mr. and Mrs. Elbee Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss, Mr. and Mrs. Turney Sheets and son, Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stubbs, Linda and Mark, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Overly and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Davis and family. The September meeting will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stubbs on Friday evening September 6.

The Helping Hand Class of Pontius Evangelical United Brethren Church was entertained recently by Miss Evelyn Kraft, 658 E. Mound St.

Group singing of "Joy Unspeakable" opened the meeting of which Don Hinton, president, had charge. A prayer was offered by Mrs. Don Hinton. The program consisted of group singing, a Bible contest and readings.

Twelve persons were present for the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kraft will be hosts at the October meeting at their home in Amanda.

Mrs. Bosworth Holds Lawn Party For EUB Class

Mrs. A. W. Bosworth, Route 4, Circleville, entertained members of the Willing Workers Class of Pontius Evangelical United Brethren Church at a lawn party at her home recently.

Mrs. Larry Goodman, who conducted the meeting, asked Mrs. Jacob Glitt to give the opening prayer. The group sang the theme song, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee."

Mrs. Charles Walker was in charge of devotions. She spoke on "Faith" reading from Hebrews Chapter 11. She read a poem, "Faith of a Child." Other readings were "Faith in God," "Faith in Ourselves" and "Faith in Others."

The closing prayer given by Mrs. C. W. Kraft followed the reading, "A Housewife's Meditation."

Mrs. Guy Stockman told the story of "Ichabod's Mother" from the Bible, and Mrs. Chancey McCord, who was in charge of the program, conducted a Bible Quiz and gave several readings with a religious thought.

Mrs. Russell Palm will be hostess to the group in October.

Household Hints

Making preserves and relishes? Leave one-quarter inch head space when you fill sterilized jars that are not to be processed.

Plain drop cookies can be turned into spicy tidbits if you add 1/2 teaspoon each of cinnamon, mace or nutmeg to a standard recipe calling for 2 cups of flour.

Leftover dough when you have made pastry for pie? Fill dates with nutmeats and wrap the pastry around the dates. Bake in a 450 degrees oven 10 minutes or until pastry is lightly browned.

Don't use leftover rubber rings if you need them for jars when you are canning. Rubber deteriorates and the rings should be fresh each season.

Standard jelly glasses come in a variety of shapes in six-ounce and eight-ounce sizes.

Foods free from coarse fiber and strong flavor are those included in "a soft diet" along with appropriate liquids.

You'll make kitchen lifeasier for yourself if you use soft paper to wipe out a greasy iron skillet before washing it in sudsy water.

hosts at the October meeting at their home in Amanda.

Five Points WCTU Holds Annual Picnic

Mrs. Guy Willis entertained the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Five Points recently at her Mt. Sterling home. The affair was the annual picnic.

The president, Mrs. Francis Furniss, called the meeting to order and used as her worship theme, "Playing it down to the finish." She read the scripture from James 1:22 followed by meditations and prayer.

The group sang "Some Glad Day".

Mrs. Cora Sheppard and Loretta Sue Long were guests.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Lloyd Neff gave a report on the WCTU Federation meeting which she attended in Lancaster at the camp grounds.

Mrs. Harry Dick gave a reading "What is Prayer?" Mrs. Clark Beauman read "Platform Presence" and Mrs. Neff gave a reading "Money Talks—What does it say about you?"

The meeting closed with the benediction.

The hostesses for the September meeting will be Mrs. Arthur Winfough and Mrs. Lloyd Neff.

This year's officers were all elected again by unanimous vote. They are: Mrs. Furniss, president;

Mrs. Noecker Wins At Country Club Bridge Luncheon

Unusual flower arrangements centered the tables at the bridge luncheon held Tuesday at Pickaway Country Club. Marigolds, roses and coleus were used in combination for the decorations. One large arrangement was placed on the table occupied by the committee planning the affair.

On this Committee were Mrs. George Speakman, Mrs. Russell Clark, Mrs. Burn Jones and Mrs. Schubert Measamer.

Winners at bridge were, Mrs. Joseph Noecker, first; Mrs. I. L. Ellis, second and Mrs. Lloyd Horn, third. Mrs. George Barnes was awarded a prize for low place.

According to Mrs. Speakman, chairman for social events during August, the Labor Day dance scheduled for Sept. 31 will be the next social affair at the club. It will be an orchestra dance at the Pickaway Country Club Barn.

Mrs. Lloyd Neff, secretary, and Mrs. Beauman, treasurer.

Exhibits Fill Coliseum for Two Sessions

The two day-long sessions of the Pickaway County placement and review at the Fairgrounds Coliseum last week brought forth a maze of exhibits, all the work of 4-H members during the past year.

According to Mrs. Leora Sayre, county home economics agent, "the activity shows the 4-H teaches the niceties as well as the necessities, the process is more important than the project."

The results of the review points up the fact that the 4-H Club can fit youth for character, good citizenship and responsible leadership, Mrs. Sayre said.

More than 100 different youngsters took part in the placement and review at the Coliseum on each day. The judging was done by experts in each of the fields of activity. Some of the top prize winners will exhibit and model their projects at the Ohio State Fair in Columbus next week.

U.S. Businesses Lose Millions to Dishonest Aides

BALTIMORE (AP)—Employee dishonesty is growing prodigiously as an American business hazard.

B. H. Mercer, head of Fidelity and Deposit Co. of Maryland, estimates American employers lost more than 500 million dollars last year to dishonest employees.

His firm is the country's largest insurer of employee honesty and Mercer is an expert in the detection and effect of embezzlement.

The amount bonding companies are paying out has shot upward nearly 400 per cent since 1944. Last year, Mercer says, they handled about 50,000 separate honesty insurance claims.

Nationally, police estimate embezzlement and fraud arrests have increased 40 per cent in the last five years.

Indian Women's Club Aids Lonely Wives of Visitors

the idea originated with Mrs. Srida Raj whose husband is director of the Asian section of the International Monetary Fund. Before coming to Washington, Mrs. Raj taught anthropology at the University of Delhi and now she is working on a Ph.D. in sociology at American University. But, she said, despite this activity, she feels the need to meet with other Indian women in the area.

The group was formed, she says, "to give us a chance to forget ourselves and get together as Indian women. Otherwise we might never know one another in Washington."

At present there are 82 members of the association. They meet once a month in the Indian Chan-els. Soudamini Mehta, who is the Indian ambassador, is president of the group. She has organized several fashion shows to exhibit the brilliant hues saris worn by Indian women.

The sari is a straight piece of cloth five or six yards long with a designed border along the selvedge. It is wrapped around the waist and draped over the shoulder. Party saris are made of silk woven with gold thread but many of the saris worn in Washington are made of nylon. Unlike her American counterpart, the Indian woman does not discard her clothes because of style. "The fashions change," Mrs. Mehta told me, "but only in the borders of the sari."

Smaller groups within the organization have formed music, drama and cooking circles.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have been married 18 years to a wonderful man, and I really believe that he loves me as I love him. We have two adopted sons, ages three and six years.

Now for the problem: When Dan was very young, before I knew him, he married another girl. He had known her only about a week, but was mad at his mother at the time and married to spite her. Almost at once he knew he had made a mistake and never lived with the girl as man and wife.

Shortly after the marriage he left that town and the girl's sister had the marriage annulled.

Just before Dan and I were married, he told me of the other marriage and the annulment—but he didn't have any papers or other proof that there was an annulment. He only knew of it when he read in the newspaper that an annulment had been granted.

Well, I took his word for it—but I saw a story on TV the other night that started me worrying. I think we should have proof of that annulment. I want my sons to be protected if my husband should die. I want proper evidence that our relationship is legal, so that nothing, ever, can make the adoptions illegal.

So, how can I get evidence that there was an annulment? Or should I try to find out about it? Is there anything to worry about? If I ought to get evidence, how do I get it? (And still keep things quiet.) I don't want to cause talk in our small town.

F. P.

DEAR F. P.: A spokesman for the Legal Aid Bureau in my town outlines the following direct simple method of getting proof of an annulment (if any).

Write to the clerk of the county court in the county where the girl and her sister were living at the time the marriage ceremony was performed—or where the annulment proceedings presumably transpired (or where published in the newspaper).

Ask this official to check the court records, to ascertain if there is, on file, documentary evidence of annulment granted to (let's say) Amy Doakes versus Dan Blank, in the year (say) 1935.

In your letter of inquiry, furnish the clerk such information as you have, based on your husband's recollections, as to the probable date of the annulment action. The clerk's office may require a small fee in advance, for handling the necessary research and copy work. If so, the clerk will advise you, and you can mail the $2 (or whatever).

Assuming the back files are stored elsewhere, the clerk will know how to route your letter, to obtain the wanted records (supposing they exist). In the event there is no record of the annulment, in that particular jurisdiction, you should continue your search for verification through other channels.

For example, I understand that a county welfare board is the only social service agency in your community. And you may shrink from discussing this very intimate worry with its representatives. If so, I suggest you take the problem to your clergyman or a trusted lawyer.

A good man in either of these professional fields will have the know-how to spearhead your quest for certitude, as regards the legality of your marriage and the legality of the children's adoption status.

Preacher or lawyer will help you think through, and track down, any and all clues leading to clarification of these questions: Was the elopement annulled or not? If not, did a valid marriage exist? If a valid marriage was made, that wasn't annulled, how may you unravel the tangle, even at this late date, and get your partnership with Dan on a legitimate foundation?

Don't be afraid to pursue this type of inquiry. Bear in mind that the very best proof of your uprightness of character, your fitness as wife and mother, is given in the fact that you want to be sure your situation is sound—now that doubts have kindled, after all these years. But do be discreet, in disclosing your worry only to qualified helpers—such as the clerk of courts, or a lawyer or churchman, as I've said.

Incidentally, in the capital city, not far from where you write, there is a first-class Legal Aid Bureau, also a Family Service Society, either of which might advise you further.

M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of this newspaper.

A small crowd gathers near the home . . .

STATE POLICE were called in to stand guard around the first Negro residents of Levittown, Pa., and were forced to use riot sticks to scatter a surly, stone-throwing crowd of some 400 persons. A search was started for one man who reportedly threatened to blow up the Negroes' home in the previously all-white, 15,500-house development. William Myers, Jr., told newsmen, "... we will try to be good neighbors . . . unless something absolutely unforeseen happens, we are here to stay."

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Housewives checking supermarket advertisements this week will find a wide variety of meats at bargains.

Roast beef, however, is conspicuous by its absence, at least in the more expensive cuts. Beef prices were described as firm, meaning at a high level, by one chain meat specialist, and the Agriculture Department says they'll stay that way for awhile.

In this situation, stores turned to the old budget standby, chuck roast. Fryers and broilers, lamb, turkeys and spot offerings of spare ribs, bacon, tongue and liver also are featured.

High prices for beef—as well as lamb and pork—are due mostly to smaller supplies for slaughter, and it is expected by Agriculture Department officials that livestock production and slaughter will continue below 1956's very high levels for some time.

However, wholesale food prices are headed down again, and fruit and vegetable production is at peak levels in most growing areas.

This means that fresh fruits and vegetables are available from nearby fields and orchards.

Outstanding vegetable selections are bunched beets, onions, tomatoes, potatoes, pascal and golden heart celery, peppers, cabbage and corn. Cauliflower and topped carrots also are good buys while spinach and broccoli are rated as not better than moderate in price.

Peaches are a good buy in a wide choice of varieties.

Seedless green grapes from California are flooding the markets, along with the round, blue-black reveses and red malagas. Plums in a wide range of colors and tastes are moderately priced and watermelons, on the bargain list for most of the summer, are still available.

Citrus fruit is mostly in the moderate class, too, except for Florida limes, which are plentiful and cheap.

3 Candidates File For Cleveland Mayor

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mark McElroy, a Democrat, has filed petitions for mayor of Cleveland. Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze already has filed for re-election. A third candidate who has filed is Michael A. Gallagher, a business executive. Wednesday was the final day for filing petitions.

McElroy, a former state senator, and Celebrezze served together in the Legislature in 1951-52.

Canada, Germany Approach Situation From Different Angles

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (U-P)—The American dollar is selling at a discount today to both the Canadian dollar and the German mark—for quite different reasons.

In neither case is the strength of the U.S. dollar nor its first position among world currencies in question.

The Canadian dollar brings $1.06 in American money because the Canadian dollar is in short supply and great demand.

Americans want it for investment in Canadian securities and property. Many West Europeans are frightened by the shakiness of their own currencies and are putting their funds into Canadian or American securities or cash.

On the 90-day futures foreign exchange market the American dollar is selling at a 5 per cent discount from the German mark.

Speculators in foreign currency and German exporters have been expecting a revaluation upward of the German mark. The German government has just taken pains to deny it has any plans for that.

Changes in currency valuation are customarily denied right up to the zero hour.

Foreign speculators have put many millions of dollars into German marks, thinking to make a quick profit of about 10 per cent if the mark is revalued upwards in terms of dollars—or to escape a loss if other European nations follow France's move toward devaluation of the franc.

The foreign exchange market is also seeing a flight from the English pound sterling to the Canadian dollar and the German mark. Talk of the possibility of devaluation of the pound has become so wide spread that the British government felt compelled to deny any such intention. But foreign traders don't want to hold either pounds or francs longer than they have to, just in case.

Wobbliness of the French franc is the most disturbing element in European finances. An across the board devaluation of the franc would seem sure to bring on a general revaluation of European currencies in terms of the American dollar. Some look for the French to act next month.

There is no flight from the American dollar to the Canadian dollar. What is happening is that Americans are investing millions in Canadian resources and its growing industries. Canadian corporations come here to borrow money and float securities, because they can save money here. While American interest rates have been rising, Canadian rates are still higher, so that borrowing is cheaper here.

But all these American funds and the fleeing currencies of Europe must be turned into Canadian dollars to be put to work there. This demand for the Canadian dollar has sent it steadily up. At $1.06 American it has surpassed its previous high of $1.05½ in November, 1933.

Dime Store Thief Pays Back Store

GRAND HAVEN, Mich. (U-P)—A repentant thief has sent each of Grand Haven's two dime stores a quarter to pay for a 10 cent item he stole 20 years ago.

The quarters were sent to City Manager R.V. Terrill along with a note which read: "I'm enclosing two quarters as I understand there are two dime stores in Grand Haven. I don't know which one I took the 10 cent item from. Please give each store a quarter so I may be sure the right one gets it. A hopeful Christian."

Midget Mule Off For West Point

KANSAS CITY (U-P)—Jackson, a 5-year-old midget mule, was put aboard a train Wednesday and sent on his way to West Point to serve as mascot at the U.S. Military Academy.

It wasn't as easy as it sounds. Jackson wasn't a bit impressed with his prospective role and balked at entering an express car. It took four men to shove him aboard.

Jackson was sent as a gift.

Ohio in Line For More U.S. Highway Aid

Move by Roads Bureau
Viewed by Buckeye
Chiefs with Pleasure

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio stands to receive additional federal help in building roads, due to a move made by the Bureau of Public Roads in Washington.

The bureau has incorporated 173 miles of the 241-mile Ohio Turnpike into the network of interstate and defense highways. It was done at the request of the Ohio Department of Highways.

Congress will decide whether to purchase that major section of the Ohio Turnpike or let the state continue to collect the tolls and maintain the road.

Charles M. Noble, Ohio's highway chief, said the department would be glad to either receive more federal money or additional mileage on the interstate system.

Asked what would be done if additional mileage or money is forthcoming he said, "We would use it on principal routes of value to the over-all economy of the state."

The Ohio Turnpike, including financing and engineering costs, cost 326 million dollars. Costs excluding financing amounted to 287 million dollars.

The 68 miles of the turnpike not placed on the interstate system runs between Ohio 18 and Ohio 10 and is known as the Cleveland-Youngstown section.

Noble today gave this background for the bureau's action:

When the interstate highway bill was first drafted in 1954, there was a provision that those states that built toll roads or free roads on the interstate system corridor would be reimbursed for a percentage of those costs so they could use that money elsewhere on their highway system.

The amount of money would vary according to age of the road, etc.

The provision was replaced by two others. One was that the bureau would report to Congress the amount states spent on toll roads, then Congress would decide what was to be done.

Noble said his department now is working on toll road construction cost figures for the bureau and said he could not estimate the amount spent on the section now part of the interstate system. The costs can not include engineering costs.

"I don't know how much money Ohio could get," he said. "But we would be glad to have either money or more mileage on the interstate system."

The federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost of interstate highway costs.

OU Technical Unit Due at Zanesville

ATHENS (AP)—Ohio University plans to establish a technical institute curriculum in connection with its Zanesville branch operation.

The operation is designed specifically for recent high school graduates and adults interested in training as an engineering technician. The new two-year course will be offered for the first time when classes begin Sept. 23.

Administering the new program locally will be Ellis Miracle, director of the Zanesville branch. Like other phases of the branch operation in existence at Zanesville High School since 1946, the technical institute was planned and will be operated in cooperation with the Zanesville Board of Education.

Youngstown CD Chief Faces Firing

COLUMBUS (AP)—Barile McCullion, manager of the Youngstown Mahoning County civil defense project staff, will be removed from his job Friday, the state civil service commission says. McCullion, appointed in July 1956, receives $660 a month. The order of removal against him was signed by Adj. Gen. Leo Kreber, who is in over-all charge of civil defense for Ohio. The order alleges incompetency, inefficiency, neglect of duty, misfeasance and non-feasance. The order claims McCullion failed to submit by the required date a study to accompany a preliminary operational survival plan for the Mahoning Valley Civil Defense Authority.

Braves Can Put Ribbon Around NL Pennant

3-Game Dodger Series Seen as Wrapping Up Season for Milwaukee

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If Milwaukee's Braves have the National League pennant wrapped up, as some folks say, this is the time to put a ribbon on it. They open a three-game series against Brooklyn's Dodgers tonight at Ebbets Field.

The Braves broke up the log jam in the race by winning 10 in a row and jolting two contenders in the process, plunking the St. Louis Cardinals out of the lead and crashing Cincinnati out of the race.

The Dodgers climbed within a percentage point of second-place St. Louis Wednesday by rapping Cincinnati 8-0 as Don Newcombe (10-10) finally got back into the act with a five-hitter for his first victory and complete game since July 12.

The Cardinals, who had won four in a row, were chopped down 13-6 by the New York Giants.

Those were the only two games scheduled in the NL and left the Cards and Dodgers both 6½ games behind the Braves.

In the American, New York's lead was trimmed to six games as the Kansas City A's made it two in a row over the Yankees, 6-3, and Chicago's second-place White Sox walloped Washington 12-6. Boston beat Cleveland 3-1 and Baltimore defeated Detroit 9-3.

Boston's Ted Williams and Yankee Mickey Mantle were hitless for the second straight day in their battle for the bat title. Williams (0-for-4) has a .385 average, Mantle (0-for-3) is .378.

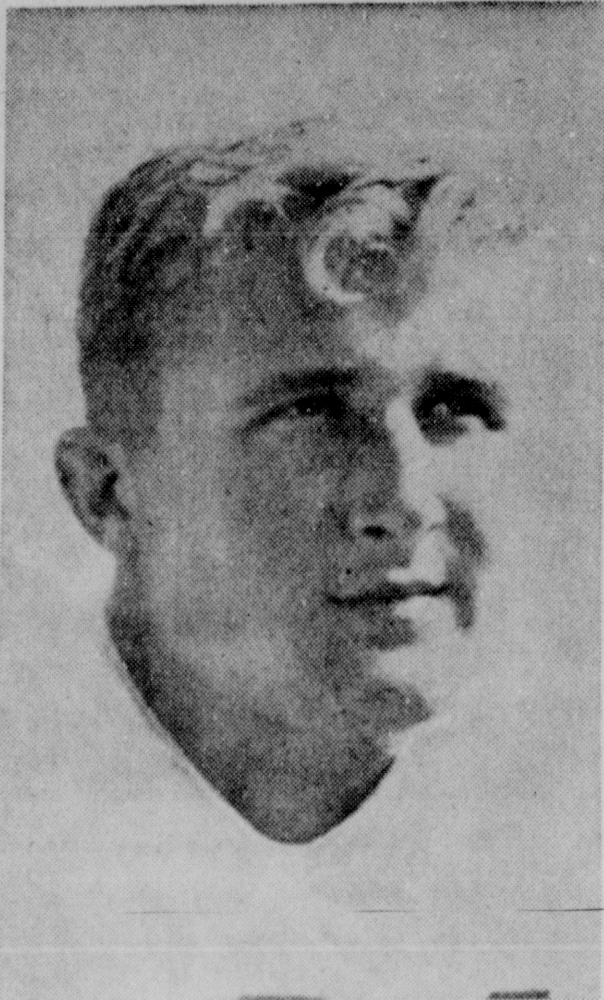

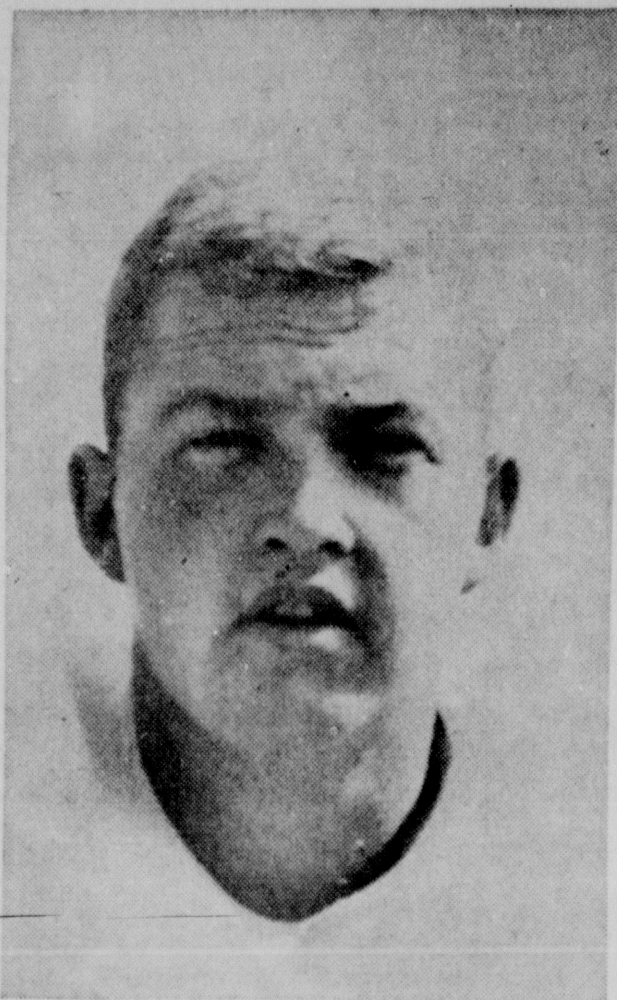

Newk, last season's Most Valuable Player in the National and the majors' pitcher of the year at 27-7, had lost four in a row since beating Cincinnati last month. He struck out six and walked one. Frank Robinson had three of the Redleg hits.

Gino Cimoli clinched it with a three-run homer in the third off Hal Jeffcoat. The Dodgers, who had 11 hits, then counted five in the seventh.

Bonus lefty Mike McCormick gained a 3-0 record for the Giants, checking the Cards on eight hits in 8-2-3 relief-innings. The Jints belted Lindy McDaniel (10-8) and four relievers for 13 hits, including home runs by Willie Mays and Hank Sauer. The Cards counted homers from Wally Moon, Ken Boyer, Eddie Miksis and Stan Musial.

The A's, taking a series from the Yankees for the first time since shifting to Kansas City in 1955, chased Johnny Kucks (7-6) with three in the first and then tagged Art Ditmar and Al Cioetto for the rest. Jack Urban won his third with Virgil Trucks' relief although the Yankees out-hit the A's 8-7.

VETERAN GRIDDERS — Circleville High School graduates Don Skinner (left) and George Troutman will be two of 20 lettermen reporting for football practice at Capital University Sept. 6. Skinner, one of the outstanding ends in the Ohio Conference last year, will captain the Lutherans this season. Troutman, performing at both center and fullback during his past three years at Cap, will figure heavily in Coach Jack Landrum's offensive and defensive plans. The two grid stalwarts played at CHS under Coach Steve Brudzinski, both graduating in 1954. Cap's first game is scheduled Sept. 28 with Northern Michigan at Columbus.

Handicap Shooting Underway At Grand American Event

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—The week-long 58th Grand American Trapshoot moved into the handicap stage today with more than 1,700 marksmen firing in a 100-target test worth about $5,000 to the winner.

The event is the preliminary handicap, forerunner to Friday's off Mike Garcia won it for the Red Sox, who had lost five in a row. Russ Nixon, with help from Ike Delock, won his 10th in 18 decisions.

The White Sox had 12 hits while scoring seven (six unearned) in the third and four in the sixth. Larry Doby, with three RBIs, and Nellie Fox each had three hits. Russ Kemmerer lost it while Gerry Staley gained a 5-0 record in relief.

Three-run homers by Joe Durham and Al Pilarcik backed up right-hander Ray Moore, who picked up a 9-2 lifetime record against the Tigers with relief help in the ninth. Lou Sleater, one of two relievers who followed loser Billy Hoelt, (5-8, hit his third homer for the Detroit runs.

Grand American, the clay target showpiece. The marksmen are graded on ability and fire from 18 to 28 yards back of the trap house. Delegates from 45 states Wednesday elected Vic Reinders, University of Wisconsin professor from Waukesha, Wis., as its new president.

The first three days of the shoot were featured 16-yard events and, at the end of 600 targets, Ned Lilly of Stanton, Mich., Dan Orlich of Reno, Nev., and Reinders were leading the overall race with only four misses.

Bard Higgins of Duluth, Minn., and Joe Hiestand of Hillsboro, Ohio, were next with five misses. In Wednesday's final 16-yard contest, Herb Bush, a 47-year-old diesel mechanic from Canton, Ill., won the coveted North American clay target championship with a perfect 200.

He was tied by four others in the field of 945, but broke 50 straight in a shootout to take the title. Hiestand also had a perfect score.

L. F. Loucks of Charlotte, Mich., broke 50 straight in a shootout with Earl Edson of Alcester, S.D., for the Champion of Champions state title holders' event. They had tied with perfect 100s. Frank E. Smith of Albuquerque, N. M., defeated Nick Eagan of New York City for the junior Champ of Champs crown after they tied at 98-of-100.

Three years ago Egan, as a 14-year-old, became the second youngest ever to win the Grand American Handicap.

Tom Emerson and H. L. Buckley of Margate, N. J., formed a racing stable in 1956 and it is called the Buck 'Em Stable.

Terrible Ted Fails To Hit Off Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Unless the highly advertised Ted Williams can accomplish something against Early Wynn today, Boston's current series with the Cleveland Indians will have to be called Jim Piersall's special party.

For it was Piersall, not Williams who hit a home run for the second night in a row Wednesday night. That was enough for a 3-1 victory over the local Sad Sacks.

Willard Nixon had singled just before Piersall's blow into the left field stands in the third inning. Nixon wound up with his 10th victory of the year against 8 losses, though he had to be helped by Ike Delock in the eighth. Mike Garcia, the loser, now has a record of 6-8.

Garcia struck out Williams once, and got him to ground out twice. Reliever Dick Tomanek got Williams on a called third strike. So the Boston dandy went hitless in four times at bat.

The Sox's third run came off Tomanek in the ninth, after two were out. Jackie Jensen, trying to back away from a close pitch, blooped a two-base hit. It was followed by another two-bagger by Ted Lepcio.

Cleveland's run came in the eighth. Al Smith singled, Gene Woodling walked and Vic Wertz bouned to Mickey Vernon. The throw to second forced Woodling but Billy Klaus made a wild relay to first and Smith came in.

Tiger Grid Squad Buckling Down

Getting down to business, Circleville High football practice is now in full swing with three daily practice sessions being held at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Almost all members of the squad have been issued practice gear, allowing Coach Tom Bennett and his staff to initiate plenty of tackling, blocking and play-running exercise.

The line drill phase of training received a boost yesterday when a new seven-man blocking sled arrived at the practice field. The sled, costing about $700, was purchased by the Stooze Club, popular sportsbacking organization at CHS.

According to Coach Bennett the new sled will be valuable assist in teaching coordination and fast starting for both linemen and backs. The Tiger gridgers wasted no time putting the sled to use yesterday.

ANOTHER new look on the local gridiron scene is the addition of three members on the coaching staff. The new coaches and their duties are: Dick Fisher, working with the ends; John Current, assisting Dick Boyd with the backs; and Jack Weikert, equipment manager and all-around assistant.

John Adler, assistant reserve coach last year, has moved up to head mentor in this capacity. He also is working with the varsity guards.

With the opening game only three weeks away, Bennett said his charges have their work all cut out from now until that time. The Tigers will make their first official showing September 6 during a pigskin preview and Band Night at the local gridiron. The following Friday night the gridgers travel to Athens for the season opener.

Redlegs Ride Ebb Tide of Pennant Hopes

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Cincinnati's Redlegs rode the ebb tide of pennant hopes from Ebbets Field to Forbes Field today, 12½ games off the pace, tied for fourth place and hungry for their first win in 10 starts.

Record-wise, it was the saddest state of affairs of the season for Birdie Tebbetts' team. Brooklyn made it three straight Wednesday, winning 8-0 behind Don Newcombe's five-hit hurling. Actually it was the fifth straight and the seventh win in eight, starts for the Brooks, and gave them a season record of 12-8 with only two more meetings scheduled between the clubs.

One has only to look at the record for clues to the Redlegs' to-boggan-slide: In the three games, Brooklyn clubbed 12 pitchers for 38 assorted hits; nary a Redleg hit a homer, even over Ebbets Field's short fences, and the Redlegs' two catchers, Ed Bailey and Smokey Burgess, both power-house performers with otherwise respectable averages, eked out only three hits between them in 42 trips to the plate.

Don Gross, with a record of 4-7, is slated to start tonight's game,

SWAGGERING into a New York police station, burly, 230-pound Vincente L. Gigante, ex-boxer known as "The Chin," asked (above), "Do you want me in the Costello case?" first of a three-game series, against Bob Friend (8-16).

Wednesday's game found Big Newk evening his season record at 20-10, a win made possible by his mates' 11-hit attack off four Redleg hurlers. Gil Hodges and Junior Gilliam got three hits apiece, but the payoff punch was a three-run homer in the third by Gino Cimoli.

Maurice Stokes of Rochester led the National Baseball Assn. in rebounds last season with 1,256 in 72 games.

Boosters Call For Painters

The Circleville Booster Club, preparing for the fast-approaching football season, will launch a bleacher painting project Saturday at the local high school.

Marking the first of several projects for the coming year, club president Charles Hart has sounded a call for volunteers to assist in the paint job. All club members and grid fans willing to lend a hand are urged to be at the high school field at 8 a. m.

Another project slated for the sports-minded organization is a membership drive which will get underway here within the next few days and last all during football season.

Cinderella Rademacher Set To Go to Patterson's Ball

SEATTLE (AP)—This is the day the self-made Cinderella man, Pete Rademacher, goes to the fistic ball with King Floyd Patterson to learn if his dreams are made of dust or diamonds.

Most ringwise observers have protested that the big, genial farm boy is leading himself to a slaughter. It is the first heavyweight title fight between an amateur and a professional.

The bout is scheduled to start at 1 a. m. Friday, Eastern Standard Time. There will be neither radio nor TV broadcasts.

The entire stadium is likely to be crammed to its 25,000 capacity with $400,000 worth of paying customers. Many of these disagree with the expert opinion that Rademacher's survival will be short under the impact of the champion's slashing fists.

A large proportion of the crowd comes from Washington's Yakima Valley, where Pete grew up, or from Georgia, where he was an Army lieutenant when he became Olympic heavyweight champion. They are for Rademacher to the last man and feel in their hearts he can do what very few believe is possible and which never has been done before: step from the peasant world of amateurism into the throne room of fistiana.

Rademacher himself says: "If I didn't think I could whip Floyd Patterson I wouldn't be here."

His former college boxing coach Ike Deeter of Washington State, says Pete can win, "but he must do it in five rounds or less. I don't believe he'll be able to pace himself beyond that."

Less than a month ago Patterson, 22, cut down Hurricane Jackson in New York. The referee stopped the fight in the 10th round. Tonight the champion will meet a much larger, and stronger opponent — and one Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, has called more skillful than the tamed Hurricane.

Rademacher, 28, goes into the ring with a weight advantage of some 25 pounds. The 210-pounder has almost spindly legs for such a large man, but he is massive in torso, shoulders and biceps. He can hit—his string of more than 30 knockouts attests to that.

He can also be hit. He has been knocked out twice in his amateur career of 79 bouts. He has been knocked down in others—and won them. Those who have watched his training-camp workouts expect big Pete to force the fight, to keep atop the champion and lessen the force of Patterson's sharp jabs and vicious combinations.

Rademacher says, however, that he will let the champion set the pattern of the fight—"What he does will determine what I do."

Patterson's plans? D'Amato says he will send the champion out to score a knockout if he can—"in 10 seconds or 10 rounds, whatever it takes."

Yes D'Amato would not predict that Floyd will accomplish the knockout.

Patterson, 22, the Mount Vernon, N.Y., boy who holds the crown, is calm and confident.

Anyone expecting Rademacher the farm boy from Grandview, Wash., to show signs of fear or nervousness, is in for a surprise. Pete dreamed up this fight himself, sold the idea to D'Amato and Hurley, obtained backers in Georgia who posted a $250,000 guarantee for Patterson.

His 60 per cent of the purse will fail by at least $10,000 to meet the guarantee, but Pete professes not to care. "I have realized my dream in just getting the chance to fight for the title," he has said.

When Billy Hoelt bowed to the Yankees, 4-3 in 15 innings, he held Mickey Mantle hitless in six efforts. He fanned Mantle three times.

GLENCANNON, winner of four steeplechase races in 1956 and already winner of one jumping classic this year, is expected to figure high in the hurdle races scheduled for Saratoga, N. Y., race track this month. The six-year-old star of the most difficult type of racing is shown with Murty Hoey up. (International)

"JUST LUCKY" is the way Bob Keegan, Chicago righthander, described that no-hitter he tossed against the Washington Senators in the Windy City. Keegan, holding the ball, only entered the majors at 32. He now is 36. It was the first no-hitter of the season and first pitched by a Sox hurler in 20 years. (International)

Nicklaus Gets Favorite Nod In JC Meet

COLUMBUS (AP)—Jackie Nicklaus, the host performer from Columbus, went out today to widen his lead as the 12th annual International Jaycee Junior golf tournament moved into second round play.

Nicklaus, the 17-year-old favorite, fired a one-under par 71 Wednesday with rounds of 37 and 34. But he had to settle for a first place deadlock with another 17-year-old, Richard Youngberg, Northbrook, Ill. Youngberg, Illinois Jaycee champion a year ago, shot impressive 36-35 rounds to share the lead.

John Konsek, Lancaster, N. Y., pressed the front-runners with a 37-36-73. The New York State junior champ equaled par on the back nine to move within two strokes of the co-leaders.

The surprise of the day was turned in by 15-year-old Lebron Harris Jr. of Stillwater, Okla. He toured Ohio State University's par 36-36-72 layout with a 38-36-74 for fourth place.

William Salvatore, of Watertown, Conn., tabbed by most observers as the player to beat after he captured medalist honors in a 36-hole qualifier, tumbled to 83.

A couple of medalist runnersup also floundered. Jimmy Gabrielson, Athens, Ga., carded a 78 and was bracketed in a nine-way tie for 24th place. David Boyd, Jacksonville, Fla., practically dropped out of the picture with an 82.

LUCKY TO BE ALIVE, Brooks Robinson, rookie third sacker of the Baltimore Orioles, is seen in a Baltimore hospital after being struck in the head by a fast ball thrown by Ned Garver of the Athletics during a game. Robinson's protective helmet was broken in two places and medics believe the helmet saved his life. (International)

Sal Maglie Booked on TV

Bum 'Barber' Cast In Dramatic Role

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball Star Sal Maglie is cool, calm and fairly confident about suddenly becoming television's newest pioneer.

"I know what I'm going to do, but not how," he declared in the tones of a pitcher familiar with tight spots on the diamond.

Sal, sometimes known as "The Barber" for his ability at shaving the hitting averages of opponent, steps before the NBC-TV network cameras Sunday as the first baseball expert to try big league dramatic acting.

He will perform in "The Little League," an hour-long opus coming to bat at 9 p.m. (EDT). The plot concerns an 11-year-old, lad, played by Peter Lazer, who has a burning ambition to play the game.

Although Maglie will be cast as Maglie, and there will be a few brief film clips of Ebbets Field where he performs in real life for the Brooklyn Dodgers the drama venture will be unusual for at least two reasons.

Sal will appear on camera only in street clothes, and his two big scenes will require a certain minimum of emotional portrayal, rather than athletic prowess.

"If I have the cues and lines I'll be all right," he said with the serenity of a man with nerves under firm control.

Furgol Defending Milwaukee Open

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Led by Ed Furgol, the defending champion, a field of 137 pros and 19 amateurs tee off today in the $35,000 Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament amid indications of subpar rounds in wholesale lots.

The 72-hole medal test, which winds up Sunday, is being held at the Tripoli Golf Club, a 6,350-yard layout in gently rolling hill country north of the city. Par is 35-35-70.

Furgol, of St. Andrews, Ill., won the $6,000 first prize last year at Tripoli with a 15-under-par 265.

Legion Regional Tourney Slated

CINCINNATI (AP)—American Legion junior baseball champions from four states move into Crosley Field today for the first games of a two-defeats-and-out regional tourney.

Cincinnati's Bentle Post, with a season record of 44-7, will have its sights on an unprecedented fourth national championship. Teams representing the post have graduated a flock of players to the major leagues and have 12 state championships.

Cincinnati meets Terre Haute late today after Benton Harbor, Mich., meets Chicago Heights.

Paul Brown Elated By Team's Spirit

HIRAM (AP)—Wednesday's drill put Coach Paul Brown in a good humor about his Cleveland Browns. Said he:

"This squad has the finest attitude of any we've had in a long time. We have a fine bunch of kids and a competitive situation is just what we need."

Part of that competitive situation will put four first-year players into the starting lineup Saturday night in Akron against the Pittsburgh Steelers.

They will be Jim Brown at full-back, Paul Wiggin at offensive end, Bobby Freeman at defensive halfback and either Thurlow Cooper or Fred Clarke at offensive end.

Dizzy Trout Seen Making 'Comeback'

DETROIT (AP)—Dizzy Trout, former star righthander of the Detroit Tigers, quit major league baseball five years ago to take a job as a radio announcer.

Today, he seems on the verge of making a comeback with Baltimore at the age of 42.

Trout pitched batting practice with the Orioles Wednesday and despite the extra left he carries now, he impressed Manager Paul Richards and the players.

"I'm thinking of signing him," Richards said. "We need a right-hander who can pitch a couple of innings at a stretch the rest of the season and he just might be able to do it."

A hidden partner match was a highlight during Ladies Day at the club. First prize went to Jane Climer and Stella Crist, second to Stello O'Hara and Dee Zehner and third to Edna Timmons and Norma Drenan.

Sunday's blind bogey was well attended, with 36 golfers on hand. First prize went to Jim Rickey, Manley Smith and Joe Adkins. Bob Hedges, Denver Greenlee, Jim Quarles, C. G. Smith, Dr. Routzahn and Win Golden captured second place honors.

Ruth Athey recently recorded an eagle on No. 9, making her one of the few women golfers to accomplish this feat.

George Fuhrman returned from a vacation in Wisconsin this week. Getting a three on No. 3, Jane Climer turned the trick by giving the ball a good smack over the creek.

Betty Young fired a new low of 36 during Monday play.

Harold Arledge, pro shop worker, recorded a commendable 45 the other day.

Betty Plummer shot her best ever 52 for nine in an 18-hole match with Patsy Blake. However, Patsy won 2-1.

Diane Mason had a 42 which bettered her former 44 for an all-time low.

Vi Ridlon would have broken 80 recently if she hadn't shot in the creek and 3-putted on the last hole. Better luck next time.

The prize for early morning golfing will have to go to Dr. Moore and Rick Spires, that is unless they played all night.

Happy to see Dee Zehner on the course again after her sojourn in Berger Hospital.

Bill Eddy is back from vacation in Virginia, appearing in tip-top shape.

The ladies hidden partner tournament was well-attended with 22

Brown Is Held To Draw in Bout

CHICAGO (AP)—Joe Brown, who has proven to be anything but invincible, today finds at least three fighters scrambling for a showdown for his lightweight championship.

Having one of the strongest cases is Joey Lopes of Sacramento, Calif., who weaved, bobbed and sprayed shots at Brown Wednesday night in Chicago Stadium to earn a 10-round draw in a nationally televised match.

Lopes, 10th ranking contender, boasted afterwards that "I will beat him if he gives me a crack at the championship."

participating. These golfers are showing a lot of enthusiasm and scores turned in indicate quite an improvement.

Virgie Van Camp, competing in the invitational tournament at Sunbury recently recorded a gross 45. It marks her best score in 18 years.

The Groveport ladies will be guests of the local club for a handicap tournament next Tuesday. These affairs are always enjoyable.

An outstanding two-stroke birdie by Becky Weldon surprised not only the shooter but the rest of the members of her foursome. Better luck next time with a hole-in-one.

Harold Hott had his best-ever nine hole score, a 42.

Another best-ever score is Tillie Smith's nine-hole 54.

Has everyone heard about Bob Shadley's eagle on No. 6. Understand the ball hit the wooden rake on the left side of the green and bounced onto the green and in the hole.

Wiley Campbell, Jacksonville, Fla., played the Pickaway course Sunday with George Hamrick, Dick Clifton and Don Goodchild.

Brick Wuest and Rick Spires had a real battle in their semifinal club championship match. The match was even at the end of 13 holes until Rick eagled No. 14, just as Wuest was sitting next to the hole for a sure bird. Sure tough when you can't tie with a birdie.

Bonner Ezell's 75 Sunday was his best in 10 years.

Paul Adkins shot a 45 Saturday.

Keeping Current...For Economy!

In the illustration above, you see a very happy man at a very wonderful moment.

The title, the keys and the car are his—and he's starting out on his first journey at the wheel.

Of course, there's not much doubt as to why he decided to purchase a new Cadillac.

Like everyone else who selects the "car of cars", he did it to "keep current", so to speak, on all of Cadillac's new miracles of performance and beauty and comfort.

But coming to Cadillac, as he did, at this particular time of the year, we also suspect that he was inspired by the added motive of practicality.

For in addition to the normal Cadillac economies of modest purchase price, low operating cost and high resale value—Cadillac dealers are, at this time, seasonally prepared to make Cadillac ownership even more attractive than ever.

Because of the demand for used cars and because of increased production of the Cadillac car itself, the odds are that this gentleman received both a generous allowance on his previous car and prompt delivery of his new Cadillac.

Have you considered how wonderful it would be to step into a Cadillac of your own? Then, you should pay your dealer a visit—spend an hour on the highway in the luxury of Fleetwood coachcrafting—and get the facts for yourself.

You'll agree, we know, that the car is Cadillac—and the time is now!

Questioning Leads Deputy To Solve Second Burglary

Constant questioning of two suspects apprehended here last week has solved at least two burglaries in Pickaway County, the local sheriff's department reported today.

The cases, investigated by Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff, apparently were solved last night. According to the deputy, William Diamond Jr., 34, Columbus, admitted that he was involved in a burglary at Tinks Tavern July 28 and another last Friday.

Diamond, appearing in Circleville Municipal Court today, was bound to the Pickaway County Grand Jury under $6,000 bond on two counts in connection with the July 28 job. Bond was set at $3,000 for breaking and entering and $3,000 for grand larceny.

Monday Diamond was held for the grand jury under $3,000 bond by order of Municipal Judge Sterling M. Lamb on an accusation of entering Tinks last Friday.

DIAMOND and another Columbus man, Claude E. Grant, 33, were apprehended near the Route 23 Tavern early Friday morning by Deputies Radcliff and Charles Felkey and Police Sgt. Leroy Hawks. Grant also was bound to the jury under $3,000 on this accusation.

Deputy Radcliff, convinced that Diamond was connected with the earlier tavern burglary, continued the investigation. His lead came when he noticed a freshly healed cut on Diamond's hand. Blood found at the scene in the July 28 burglary indicated that the intruder had suffered a deep cut, probably on the hand, while breaking a window at the tavern.

After prolonged questioning, Radcliff said Diamond finally admitted that he was involved in the July burglary. According to the deputy, approximately $75 in cash and whiskey valued at $200 were taken during this break-in.

Checking Diamond's background in Columbus, Radcliff said it was learned that the accused man has a long record of previous convictions, including jail terms for armed robbery, burglary and shooting with intent to kill. Columbus officials said the local deputy is the first lawman to ever obtain a written confession from Diamond.

Record Wheat Exports Shave U.S. Surplus

WASHINGTON — Record wheat exports during the last marketing year cut the nation's surplus of that grain to 905 million bushels as of last July 1, the Agriculture Department reported today.

The record exports during the year ending last June 30 amounted to 547 million bushels, the department said. It added that the 905 million bushel surplus was 128 million bushels less than the near record surpluses on hand a year earlier.

A further reduction in the wheat carryover is in prospect by next July 1, the report said, with the 1957 crop yield under that of 1956 and with exports expected to continue at a high level.

Copter Pilot Helps Boys Back Up Story

KERMAN, Calif. — A year ago a National Guard helicopter pilot — Capt. Paul J. Flotron of Glendale — set his whirlybird down on the farm of Louis Kastorff.

Flotron had lost his way and was low on fuel.

The Kastorffs fed the airman, gave him maps and helped him obtain gas.

But friends of the three Kastorff boys wouldn't believe a helicopter had descended on their farm.

Wednesday Flotron made a return call.

This time the lads took plenty of pictures.

Sergeant York Bushed after His Big Celebration

JAMESTOWN, Tenn. — Sgt. Alvin C. York rested at his mountain home today after exhaustion forced his departure from "Sergeant York Day" ceremonies here Wednesday.

The 69-year-old hero of World War I was presented a new, black automobile by the 82nd Airborne Division Assn. York is the 82nd's only living Medal of Honor winner of the 1917-18 era.

It was the first time the famous sharp-shooting squirrel hunter had left his Wolf River home near here since a stroke paralyzed him almost three years ago. The new car is equipped to carry his wheelchair.

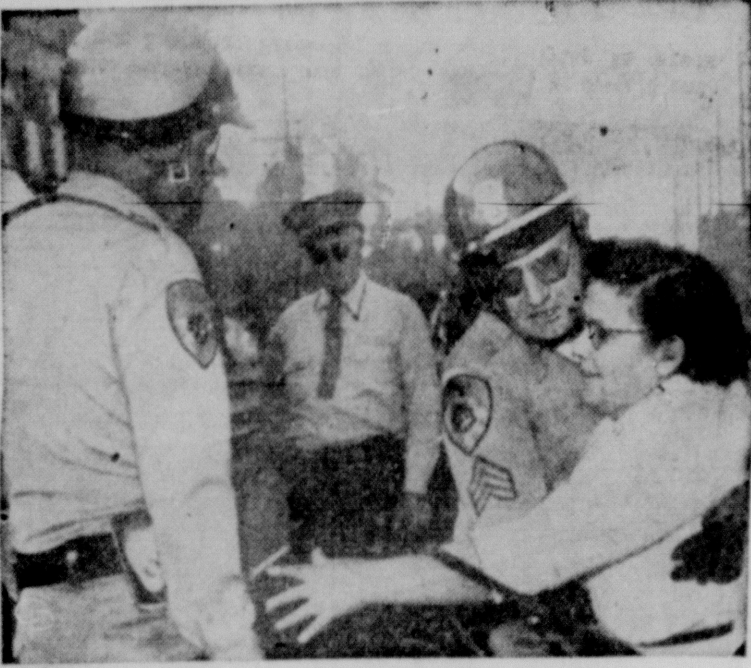

During the final speeches, York's energy wilted and he was taken home in an ambulance, smiling reassurance to an obviously concerned crowd. His condition was not believed serious.

He was the most talked-about hero of the time after singlehandedly killing 25 Germans and capturing 130 in the battle of the Argonne.
